Read and Refresh

powered by HarperCollins Publishers

An outdoor rest area between stages where attendees can grab free water, a bit of shade, and a seat to look over their book haul while being treated to free books by authors featured at HarperCollins publishers.

The Black Future Newsstand presented by the Black Thought Project

What does a media that loves Black people look, feel, sound, and taste like in a future where reparations are real? The Black Future Newsstand invites Black folx to not only imagine a media that loves us, but to step inside and create it. Part of the Black Thought Project, which creates sanctuaries for Black expressions.
